

E-mail Solutions

A critical communication tool in the global economy

E-mail is a critical communication tool in the global economy. E-mail provides your business with a way to communicate with customers, employees, and prospects around the world.

ILAP is a market leader in the provisioning of e-mail. We are responsible for the proper routing and delivery of over 2 million e-mail messages per day. We are proficient with mail systems such as MS Mail, MS Exchange, Mdaemon, and ETRN. Complex mail handling problems such as envelope readdressing, mail redirection and merging have become our specialty.

State-of-the-art mail system

Some of the benefits your organization will receive using ILAP's email services:

Redundant cluster of servers to process outgoing and incoming mail: Increased reliability and stability of email service by utilizing most advanced equipment.

Automatic Layer 4 switching of mail requests: Ensures quick delivery of email by utilizing multiple servers.

Oracle-based system: Automatically configures mail servers quickly and efficiently.

Net Centre Access: The Net Centre provides clients with complete account management capabilities and email tools.

Most up to date mail server software: Utilizes most up to date features available for quick, reliable delivery of mail.
